

CushoGuard™

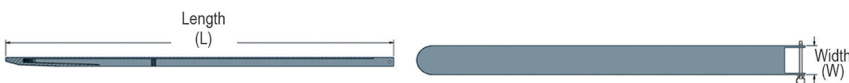

Polyurethane Fork Sleeves

Protect your load, shield your forks

Protective polyurethane sleeves cushion all impacts and eliminates expensive scratching, chipping, marring and scuffing on both load and forks

Lower risk of cargo slippage, damage and lost profits - The malleable polyurethane absorbs vibration, minimizing product damage and loss

Easy to install with exact OEM matching sizes - Simply slide the load protector onto the fork and secure with the included mounting hardware

Additional Protection

Steel mesh reinforced heels prevent mounting bolt tear outs and reinforced toe-ends prevent CushoGuard™ damage from pinching with fork end. This internal meshing compliments the remarkable durability and unmatched service life of our proprietary polyurethane compound.
